

GLASS TOYS

Glass sex toys have been increasing in popularity over the last few years, but they have been used in fertility rite ceremonies and other ceremonies for more than 2000 years. The reason is that it can easily give you so much pleasure and help you reach blissful orgasm. At first that may sound unbelievable, but don't knock it till you try it. We are not talking about sticking a wine bottle in you. They are made from solid quality Pyrex glass, meticulously produced by means of lengthy production processes. They are all hand-formed by highly skilled artists, and then undergo the annealing process which strengthens the glass sex toy. This process of heating the glass and then allowing it to cool slowly takes at least 24 hours. Beware of imitations not made with good quality glass and craftsmanship.

Good quality glass sex toys are perfectly safe; in fact glass is the safest raw material around for manufacturing adult toys, particularly with regard to avoiding the transfer of bacteria and disease. Phallic and Boronex® toys dildos undergo rigorous testing and there can be no doubt as to their resilience and durability. These products are kiln tempered for a full 24 hours at extreme temperatures. This process strengthens the pyrex molecularly, making it able to withstand extreme changes in temperature. However, glass is obviously not indestructible so if you accidentally drop your glass toy onto a hard surface, do check it carefully. If you discover any chips or cracks in your toy you should stop using it. When two or more pieces are joined together there should be a smooth curve at all meeting places. Any glass that meets at or near 90 degree angles sharply could break easily. This is called "bad re-entrant angle". Also look for debris in the sealing this could weaken the item. Sealing is used to put on bumps, veins, knobs, and joining major differences in shapes. The rule of thumb is if you slide your fingernail across the sealed glass, it should not stop, but slide with the curve. Smoothing these curves requires more craftsman time and fuel to properly flame polish.

Glass toys are very intimate and intense, even more when you heat or cool them. With the proper heat, and because of their unique shape, they can attack your senses like no vibrator. It is a more natural orgasm brought on by more natural stimulation. Heating your glass toy up is as simple as placing the toy in hot water for 2 minutes or up to a half an hour. But be careful not to overheat the toy. A micro wave will only heat the water not the glass. Always hold the toy in your hand for a moment to test the temperature. You can also cool it the same amount in the refrigerator. Then just lube it and WOW. Whether hot or cold it can retain its temperature for about an hour.

Even though a good glass toy can cost more; in the long run with a little care, glass sex toys could last 3 to 4 thousand years. So you have one for life! They require just a small amount of water based lubricant which easily slides on the glass to give ease of insertion and rotation. Just a minute is all it takes to ensure a safe clean dildo. Since glass sex toys never absorb odors or germs; it is very hygienic. It is also non-porous, so it is easy to clean with warm water and anti-bacterial soap, then dry and stored in a protective cover. Be very careful when you wash this toy, nothing is more slippery than glass, soap, and water.

They come in all kinds from vaginal dildos, g-spot curves, butt plugs and anal beads. They don't make strap-ons, but the penis dildos with the large base will work with some currently available strap-on systems. Various bumps and ribbing for extra pleasure and double ended for two in one sensations. You can get colored ones and vibrating ones. Beware of some of the ingredients used to color them and one that are hollow to put vibration or liquid in as they may not be as safe.

My favorites are the Boronex®toys, the Juicer and the Clingon, the design is so different than anything in prior glass art. They have been perfected several times to make them anatomical correct and hitting all the spots just right.

The Juicer series has a clit teasing, body pleasing, indescribable design which allows you or your loved one to spin the dial for an unbelievable experience. Bumps tickle the clitoris and lips, as the shaft fills you up. The Juicer looks similar to an orange juicer and literally can extract the sweet juice with ease.

The Clingon sex toy has pyrex probes that enter the vagina and the anus at the same time. A clitoris stimulator plate is also strategically positioned, so that when the vaginal and sphincter muscles are tightened and loosened, all parts work together to rub a woman just the right way. The Clingon is held in place by their design and fills a woman up completely, totally hands free. If you have been dual penetrated before, and want a challenge, a Large Clingon really fills you up like nothing else can. The clitless Clingon is also available for dual penetration, with a sleek discrete look, but without the clit plate.

Go ahead and get with the times and treat yourself to one good Pyrex glass toy. Whether you're looking for a little healthy juice, or a triple sensation of anal, vaginal and clit stimulation they will give you a safe and overwhelming mind blowing orgasm!
